

DAILY EVENING BULLETIN.

MONDAY EVENING, FEB. 20, 1882.

THE Chill-Peru business promises to lead to a war, after all—but the hostilities are confined to our own country, between the Republican factions.

THERE is the authority of careful Republican newspapers like the Chicago Tribune and the Cincinnati Gazette for the statement there is to be war between Mr. Blaine and the Administration. The ostensible issue will be the foreign policy of the former, but the real quarrel will be for the control of the Republican party.

CONGRESS has been in session two months. There has been an immense amount of talk, and never in the history of the house has such a flood of bills been poured in. But talk is cheap, and most of the bills are still cheaper. The actual amount of work accomplished is very small. Both houses are far behindhand and are evidently preparing to extend the session far into the summer.

THE attention of Republicans who are talking of dissections in the democratic ranks is called to the following. It is a statement from Thomas Mr. Nicol, one of General Garfield's private secretaries, and is addressed to the Stalwarts. It appeared in the New York Tribune and was endorsed by that paper editorially: "All you who glory in the name of Stalwart, and who took part in the villification and abuse of President Garfield last summer, who sought to control his official action or degrade and destroy his character and reputation, you are responsible for his murder. His blood is on the garments of the whole gang of you, and you cannot wipe it off. You have been dealt with very tenderly touching your grave responsibility for this crime, but everybody knows you are guilty, and you feel it yourselves in your innermost souls. It was your abuse and denunciation that 'inspired' Guiteau to 'remove' the President as a 'political necessity,' and you will not much longer be permitted to hide the stains upon your hands, or to distract attention from them, by raising the dust around the heels of Blaine; by throwing mud at Sherman or heaping ridicule on me. Your crime was not merely the murder of a man; it is the transfer of the government by murder to the hands of a faction of the party which, if the question could have been submitted to the people at the time it was done would not have received one vote in a thousand. One would think that with such a fact hanging over your heads to the clear daylight of public knowledge, you would have sense enough, though destitute of all decency, to enjoy the lease of power the assassin gave you which the law allows, without persistently villifying the chosen friends and associates of your victim, who was the nation's choice. Why, you are the most stupid fools in the world to keep on provoking discussions of these old matters. You stand as acknowledged criminals, morally responsible for and guilty of Garfield's murder, but against you, on account of your friends and the good name of the community, the prosecuting witnesses are loth to proceed. But when you treat mercy as cowardice, and to guilt add insolence and defiance, you are no longer entitled to forbearance. So now, if you want a reconsideration and discussion of the whole subject, proceed with your abuse. If you want the whole tune played over again, with occasional variations, in pertinent and truthful connection, which were omitted before, keep on calling for it, and it shall not be my fault if you are not gratified with a response."
